Contemporary Dance Workshop

directed by Tiziana Arnaboldi

A workshop aimed at dancers, actors and all those who have an interest in research into the body as an instrument of 'physical presence'.

The dancer and their gesture

"What I look for is the truth. In relationships, feelings, gestures, silences, looks. I'm interested in bringing life to the stage, aiming at the essence, entering deep inside secrets and intimacy, revealing fears and uncertainties. I see the body as an artistic and linguistic project, with no barriers between the different modes and means of communication, in order to create a universal connection of feelings.
